

Document management

Sycor and IBM are strong partners when it comes to your most important asset: high-quality information

Businesses gain competitive advantages by making fast decisions. Sycor and IBM provide future-oriented solutions for intelligent document management to ensure that you have the quality of information you need and quick access to data.

Fast and sound decisions based on secure, high-quality information are an increasingly important competitive advantage. Clearly defined, and if necessary, automated processes help reduce lead times and save money. Centrally managed information can be accessed quickly and reliably. Clear and seamless data management facilitates and ensures legal compliance.

With a well-designed solution, you too can benefit from these proven advantages. With future-oriented document management systems (DMS), Sycor and IBM make sure you have the quality of information you need and fast access to data.

Sycor and IBM Deutschland GmbH are the perfect partners for tackling these challenges.

Your challenges:

- Inefficient, paper-based workflows
- Time-consuming searches for important information
- Adherence to compliance guidelines
- Increasing costs of data backup

As one of the world's largest IT companies with over 20,000 employees in Germany, IBM has a decisive share in the DMS and Enterprise Content Management (ECM) market. With the IBM FileNet P8 suite, IBM provides an intelligent, future-oriented solution for document management at the highest level.

Building on this foundation, Sycor taps the full potential of IBM solutions for medium-sized enterprises thanks to many years of experience with archiving and ECM projects and a focus on special scheduling, organizational and budget frameworks. The experts at Sycor have know-how that covers the entire IBM FileNet P8 suite as well as related systems. They can also provide system operation services as part of a comprehensive outsourcing package.

The result? Tailored solutions that enable you to optimize processes, lower costs and meet compliance requirements. At the same time, reorganized company-wide data gives you quick access to high-quality information. And that provides the basis for fast decisions and significant competitive advantages.

Your advantages:

- Efficient and transparent workflows
- Fast access to important information and documents
- Compliance with legal requirements
- Increased data security
- Faster, sound decisions

Your contact:

John Bertolino
Sales & Marketing Director

john.bertolino@sycoramericas.com
+1 412 788 9494